

JUST IN STORE

PARC MONCEAU owner Barry Hutner is celebrated for his impeccable eye for fine antiques and accessories, including the largest selection of antique andirons in the Southeast. Therefore, Parc Monceau was a perfect fit in the Atlanta area to represent Lyle and Umbach's fashion-forward, expertly crafted andirons, firescreens and other eye-catching fireplace accessories. "We chose Lyle and Umbach because everything they make is beautiful and of the highest quality craftsmanship," says Hutner. "These pieces are classic and understated with a modern feel, so they have an edge that allows them to go with any décor." Featuring motifs ranging from organic to nautical to Greek key, the company's designs are available in polished, white and brushed bronze finishes. 425 Peachtree Hills Ave., Suite 15, (404) 467-8107; parcmonceauatl.com

IN THE NOW

MODERN BOTANICALS

"Botanical motifs have always been strong in design, but are now even stronger as they appear in unexpected ways. Magnify botanical appeal by playing with color and size. This small papier-mâché aloe impression stool packs a punch!"

—Laura Walker, Verde Home

The "Aloe" stool is fashioned by Haitian artisans from recycled cement bags in 12 colorways. $345. Available at Verde Home, (404) 754-6365; verdehomeinc.com

NEW FOR YOUR NEST

ANTHROPOLOGIE's stoneware is in full bloom this fall with lime-colored dishes perfect for serving up delectable desserts. Good-Luck Garden dessert plates, left, $12 each, anthropologie.com

Dallas-based designer JAN SHOWERS takes cues from Parisian runways and mid-century cinema for her namesake collection, imbuing more than 100 pieces with Old Hollywood glamour-meets-antique French with every shapely curve. Alfred Table in polished merisier, below left. Available through Grizzel & Mann, ADAC, (404) 261-5932; grizzelandmann.com

Add drama to drab walls with a modern interpretation of the classic circular motif, featured in the newest release from APF MUNN mirrors. "Circles" cluster mirrors by Rockwell Group, below right. Available through J. Nelson, ADAC, (404) 477-2225; jnelsoninc.com

