

March 26, 2008

Scrappily Ever After

Reed LaPlant Furniture

Dearly beloved,

We gather here today to celebrate the union of two design themes in forward-thinking matrimony.

Now and forever more, the taking of materials from the past – scrap yard metals, construction site cast-offs, old doors, and hand rails – to repurpose them into lasting and beautiful objects will be known as “upcycling.”

This ceremony is officiated by tinkerer/ photographer/ furniture designer Reed LaPlant, whose first collection – American walnut dressers, Southern yellow pine bookcases, two-tier coffee tables – is sourced in this way.

Last weekend, LaPlant debuted the first of several lines designed for Verde Home’s ecoconscious showroom. His commissioned pieces (from modest bedside tables to intricate bench pew seating) will transform your own ripped-up floorboards and reclaimed materials into blessed treasures worth holding onto.

For better. As opposed to worse.

Available at Verde Home, 1000 Marietta Street, suite 244, West Midtown (678-927-9113). Reed LaPlant (404-683-3559 or reedlaplant.com).

E-mail Save Print Text Map

More In...

FASHION
The Weekend Guide
What to Do This Weekend

BEAUTY & FITNESS
Sprucy Juice
New Moon Skin Care’s Juice-Based Services

LIFESTYLE
In Other Words, Hang in There
A Holiday Hangover Lexicon

HOUSE & HOME
Come Out, Come Out, Wherever You Are
Kirklands’ Wood Garden Protecting Potions

Sign Up!
Sign up for your free daily e-mail about the latest in fashion, food, & fun.
subscribe

shutterfly
Tell Your Story

Get started >

Make every memory count with Photo books.